BAYFEST SEEKS BODYSEARCH COMPETITORS

MARINE CORPS BASE HAWAII, Kaneohe Bay, Sept. 5, 2014 – The GNC BodySearch Fitness Competition returns to BayFest on Saturday, October 18th at 3:00 p.m. Hawaii’s finest and fittest bodies and bodybuilders are invited to vie for the coveted title of King and Queen of BayFest as well as cash and prizes. This free and fun competition is open to all entrants age 18 and over.

Contestants will model fitness and swimsuit attire, and will be judged on personality, physique, and interviewing skills. A panel of judges will select the winners and the first through third place male and female finishers will take home cash and prizes. Entry forms are available at www.BayFestHawaii.com. For more information, call 254-7597.

BayFest is open to the public October 17-19 and is hosted by Marine Corps Community Services (MCCS) and MCB Hawaii. Highlights include three nights of concerts by national recording artists on the USAA Main Stage. Friday, October 17th features Smash Mouth and Uncle Kracker. The indie-electro band Capital Cities performs on Saturday, October 18th. Country music sensation Rodney Atkins and special guest Rose Falcon play on Sunday, October 19th. Family fun includes the E.K. Fernandez Carnival and Midway of rides and games, Friday fireworks, military displays and more. For ticketing and other information, visit www.BayFestHawaii.com.

About MCCS: MCCS provides morale, welfare and recreation programs, and services; which attribute to readiness and retention of Marines, Sailors, and family members stationed aboard MCB Hawaii. Proceeds from this and other MCCS events are reinvested into quality of life programs at MCB Hawaii. For more information, visit MCCSHawaii.com.
